Account Opening

At www.sydbank.com/Corporate Clients the account opening procedure is described. Account opening documents are available in English and German. An account manager will be appointed. We can provide an account number within 24 hours, but the account will not be fully operational before we have received and accepted the account opening documents.

Interest

Credit interest paid. (Variable rate – calculation 360/360).

Resident/Non-Resident

All domestic payments in DKK and EUR are treated similarly regardless of whether they are to or from non-residents.

Branch Network

All Danish Sydbank branches can handle payments to and from your accounts.

Prices

Prices for resident and non-resident accounts are available on request. Prices will include a monthly account maintenance fee plus transaction fees. Account openings are free of charge.

Automated Repatriation

Automated repatriation is available at fixed dates or at fixed intervals.

Electronic Banking

MT101 (request for transfer)/MT940/942 (electronic statement) via the company's local banker.

Domestic Payment Habits (B2B)

Electronic payments (account-to-account) are widely used in Denmark.

These payments are initiated via the Office Banking System and cover 60% to 80% of all payments in Denmark.

Payments by cheque are decreasing rapidly in Denmark. Cheques are not common B2B. However Sydbank is able to handle cheque transactions like any other major Danish bank.

B2C direct debit is widely used as regards regular payments including electricity, mortgage and telephone bills. B2B direct debit ("LeverandørService") is possible in Denmark albeit subject to agreement with the debtor, ACH etc.

Foreign companies holding a non-resident account and invoicing in DKK can obtain "giros" to be attached to the invoice. This system is known as "FI-Kort" and is widely used in Denmark. Comprehensive information about the payer is shown on the MT940.
